

Privacy Policy

Data protection

1. Purpose and legal basis of data processing

1.1. The purpose of data management is to identify the Customer in order to fully comply with the following:

- fulfillment of the obligations arising from the contract between the Company and the Customer;
- asking the Customer for their opinion about the products and services;
- information about the use and possibilities of the site;

1.2. The Company processes the personal data provided by the Customer primarily for the purpose of fulfilling the contracts concluded between the Customer and the Company. The duration of data management is the fulfillment of the concluded contracts. The personal data provided by the Customer may be used by the Company for purposes other than the direct acquisition of business and the original data collection only after the Customer has been informed and authorized in advance. Acceptance of these GTC also qualifies as the granting of a permit for the processing of personal data provided by the Customer and as a consent for the processing of data. In such a case, the duration of the data processing extends to the withdrawal of the consent to the data processing for such purpose, which the Customer may do at any time in writing. The Company is entitled to send information on the operation of the website and its changes to all Clients (using the personal data provided).

2. Provision of data, viewing, request for amendment of personal data

2.1. The Company informs the Webshop Clients that the Company, as the data controller, treats their personal data confidentially and takes all security, technical and organizational measures that guarantee the security of the data.

2.2. The provision of the Customer's personal data is in all cases voluntary, based on consent, and the Company may use the provided personal data only in accordance with the provisions of this data protection statement and the applicable data protection legislation.

2.3. The Customer may view the Company's website without disclosing his or her personal data, however, there are services (for example: ordering) for the use of which it is essential to provide and manage certain data within the framework of registration. Required fields are marked with an asterisk in all cases.

2.4. The Customer may view the personal data provided during registration and stored by the operator at any time, without restriction.

2.5. The Company provides the opportunity for the Customer to change the personal data provided during registration in the event of a change. You can do all this at the e-mail address shop@idancestore.eu.

3. Deletion of personal data

3.1. The Company also provides the opportunity for the Customer to request the deletion of personal data provided during registration at the e-mail address shop@idancestore.eu. The request for deletion shall be complied with by the Company, in the absence of any further impediment, and the personal data shall be deleted from the data recorded as active data. The Company informs the Customer that all personal data collected with the Customer's consent is intended to fulfill its legal obligation or to enforce the legitimate interest of the data controller or a third party, if the enforcement of this interest is proportionate to the restriction of personal data protection without further consent, and after the withdrawal of the Client's consent or request for cancellation. The Company draws the Customer's attention to the fact that all personal data that has come to its knowledge - on the basis of consent - will be kept in an archived form for five years in order to fulfill its separate legal obligation.

4. Use and disclosure of personal data

4.1. The Company will use the Customer's personal data in all cases in accordance with this privacy statement and consent, and will not disclose them to third parties, except as provided in this statement.

4.2. By sending the order, the Customer expressly consents to the possible transfer of personal data to the parcel delivery company. The Company transmits statistics based on personal data collected about the Customer to third parties only deprived of information about the person providing the data. No personal data of the informant may be reproduced from the data thus transmitted by any procedure.

4.3. If the Company becomes aware that the Customer provides personal data of a third party, or uses publicly available or illegally obtained personal or other data on the site in a manner that violates the rights of a third party, or violates the provisions set forth in this privacy statement, or it shall take the necessary legal measures and shall do its utmost to assist the competent authorities in establishing the identity of the offender.

5. Management of collected data, me